Eldena Young Man Killed in Crash Last Eve

DROVE MOTOR-CYCLE INTO A MOVING TRUCK

Henry F. Burdge, Jr. Victim of Tragedy South of City

Henry Francis Burdge, Jr., of Eldena was killed last evening about 10:15 o'clock on U. S. route 30 near Eastern avenue in the south east limits of Dixon, when he drove his motorcycle directly into the front of a truck, which was entering the city from the south. His death followed shortly after the crash as he was being taken to the hospital in an ambulance.

Burdge and Eugene Shoemaker of near Eldena were riding on the former's motorcycle and as they entered the city Burdge's cap blew off. He drove his motorcycle off the right side of the paving onto the shoulder and stopped. Shoemaker stepping off the machine. Burdge then swung the motorcycle onto the paving and started to drive back to get his cap and in making the U turn on the paving, crashed directly into the front of the truck.

Kasper Burgard of Denver, Colo., driver of the truck, which was owned by the Ringsby Truck Line of Denver, swung across the paving onto a ditch and stopped on the sidewalk on the west side of the street, only inches from a power line pole. Burdge was thrown from the motorcycle onto the paving his body being badly torn about the abdomen.

Inquest This Morning
W. B. Wilson of Denver, assistant coroner, hurried to a service station and telephoned the police station. State Officer Edward Mahan and police proceeded at once to the scene and Burdge was placed in an ambulance and taken to the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital, but expired on the way.

The body was removed to the Jones funeral home where Dr. Kenyon B. Senger, coroner, conducted an inquest at 10 o'clock this morning. The drivers testified that the motorcycle had passed them south of the NorthWestern underpass south of the city and upon entering the city limits they observed the machine stopped on the right shoulder of the highway. The driver suddenly swerved to the left and drove directly into the front of the truck. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Burdge was employed as a driver on an oil truck and had only recently purchased the motorcycle. It developed at the inquest, with Shoemaker as a passenger, he left Eldena last evening to drive to Dixon and return on a pleasure ride.

Funeral Monday
The deceased was born in Eureka, Ill., Aug. 19, 1914. He is survived by his widow; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Burdge, Sr., of Prairieville; four sisters, Mrs. Alma Johnson of Eldena; Mrs. Erma Wickert of Dixon and Miss Beatrice of Prairieville and two brothers, Byron of Eldena and Earl of Prairieville.

Funeral service will be held at the home of his parents in Prairieville Monday afternoon at 1:15 and at the First Christian church in Dixon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in Oakwood.

Local Merchants Are "Fleeced" by Bad Check Passer

An over-clad stranger, about 50 years of age, passed at least four worthless checks on Dixon merchants Wednesday afternoon and obtained a neat sum thereby. Making small purchases, which he left to be called for later, he paid in check and then departed, not to return. According to reports at the police station, four checks ranging from about $5 to $10 each were distributed among merchants in the downtown district. Chief Van Bibber obtained a fair description of the stranger, which has been broadcast over the state police radio system to warn police and merchants of other cities.

Volunteer

Tip, the German police dog belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schick of route 4, has added himself as a volunteer to the staff of about 75 carriers who distribute your Dixon Evening Telegraph. Tip, being a wise dog, knows a good thing when he sees it and knows one thing which will please his mistress and master most; and that is, to get their favorite evening paper to them as quickly as possible. Each evening he receives the rolled Telegraph in his water-proof covering from Motor Route Carrier Bill Oakford and takes it to the feet of his mistress. Proof of Tip's loyalty to both the Telegraph and his mistress is shown in these pictures.

DREAD EPIDEMIC IS SPREADING IN INDIA PROVINCES

Lucknow, India, June 17.—(AP)—India's cholera epidemic, already having taken an estimated 16,500 lives in the United Provinces, was reported today to be spreading over a vast area of northwestern India.

The epidemic was said to have reached into Afghanistan and into India's central provinces.

Newly-affected areas in northwestern India included parts of the Punjab states, northwest frontier province, and the Sindh region, India's western extremity.

Anti-cholera inoculations have been administered free to 600,000 persons in the United Provinces where the battle against the seven-weeks old scourge was being directed by the Hon. Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit, a member of the new nationalist government.

Health workers dumped 115 tons of potassium permanganate in polluted wells to purify them. Authorities attempted to regulate disposition of the bodies of victims.

According to an old Hindu tradition, persons who die of cholera, snakebite or smallpox must neither be buried nor burned. Their bodies, according to the superstition, must be deposited in wells, rivers or cisterns. Authorities feared violence if they attempted forcibly to carry out a prohibition of this practice.

Hens Chagrined

Paxton, Ill., June 17.—(AP)—If local hens are sensitive, they might be chagrined to learn crows' eggs are bringing three times the price of harnyard biddies' best creations in Ford county.

The county board has set up a $150 crow bounty fund from which it has offered to pay 60 cents a dozen for crows' eggs. The current wholesale price for best hens' eggs is 20 cents a dozen at Central Market.

Chicago, June 17.—(AP)—Anthony Esposito was both husband and fiance today.

Until July 2 he and his bride, Angelina, will be just like other engaged couples.

They will have dinner and dance dates, go to the movies together, and spend some evenings in the parlor, but curfew will send each to separate homes.

They announced these plans in court yesterday. Right after their

YELLOW RIVER STOPS SINO-JAP WAR IN NORTH

Invaders Abandon All Lunghai Operations; Shift to South

Shanghai, June 17.—(AP)—A hundred-mile-long blanket of muddy water spread rapidly south-east through Honan province today as half-naked Japanese engineers, aided by thousands of Chinese peasants, labored desperately in rushing currents to mend broken dikes of the Yellow river.

Continuing rain, however, appeared to doom their efforts as the yellow cascade pouring through wide breaks in the dikes north and west of Kaifeng reached the walls of Chowkiakow, nearly 100 miles south of the normal course.

As Associated Press correspondent, flying over the flood area, reported the river appeared to be changing its course to join China's other great river, the Yangtze.

The Yellow torrent was flowing into a tributary of the Hwai river, whence it would reach the Yangtze below Nanking, former Chinese capital.

The water seemed to be cutting a new channel from which it might not be diverted until Japanese could repair the broken dikes some time next fall or winter.

Efforts Hopeless

Japanese staff officers at Kaifeng said the task of stemming the flood now appeared to be hopeless. Almost 90 per cent of the giant stream's water was roaring through quarter-mile gaps into the countryside, 30 feet below the river bed which has been built up through centuries of silting.

It was estimated a full 500,000 homeless Chinese soon would be in flight before the flood, traveling by land and water.

John Earl Baker, head of the International Red Cross relief work here, said "this is the worst thing that ever happened to China—the combination of war and flood."

Dawn Phantom Was Policeman's Son

Chicago, June 17.—(AP)—The "dawn phantom" gunman accused of 28 early-morning holdups during the past two months was revealed in death today as a policeman's son.

Policeman Ernest L. Keen suspected, from victims' descriptions, the robber was his son, Harold, 23, an ex-convict. He went on extra duty in an effort to catch him.

Seven detectives trapped young Keen last night as he approached the home of a friend. They said he reached for his weapon, so they fired pistols and a machine-gun. Eighteen bullets killed him.

Harold's wife, Angelina, 21, an expectant mother, was told of the shooting at the detective bureau where she had been detained.

"I expected it," she said. Policeman Keen was telephoned. "The work is done," he said, "as I knew it must be."

"Looks Like Ocean" Says Shirley Of Lake Michigan

Chicago, June 17.—(AP)—Little Shirley Temple, dimpled darling of the screen, looked out of her hotel window today at Lake Michigan and said "it looks just like the ocean."

The nine-year-old Hollywood star, smiling and vivacious, hugged a big doll as she arrived by automobile on a cross-country vacation trip that will include Washington and New York. She and her entourage of bodyguards, chauffeurs, maids, parents and press agent were registered at a fashionable north side hotel. They will remain during the week-end.

Cause of Suit

Marion, Ill., June 17.—(AP)—Here is why Edward Smith, Herrin farmer, contends $2,750 damages are due him from a coal mining company: Evacuation of a mine drained water from a deep well he had drilled at a cost of $400.

Then water pumped from the pit overflowed on his land and damaged his crops.

Finally when the company began night operations, the lights at the colliery were so bright and the machinery so noisy that he couldn't sleep.

The damage suit was on file in Circuit court today.

WAR AREA FILMS TO BE SHOWN ON RELIEF PROGRAM

Bowl of Rice Party to Feature Movies Taken By Ashton Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Otto W. Schade of Ashton, who recently returned home from an extended tour, during which they spent several weeks in China, where they were able to obtain some interesting and vivid pictures of that country and its conditions, will show these views this evening at the Bowl of Rice party in Dixon. Arrangements were made today by J. M. Brady of the executive committee to have the pictures shown following the band concert on Hennepin avenue.

The pictures portray the actual terrible plight of the Chinese war-ridden people and their dire need for assistance, both in regard to food and hospital care as well as housing. Mr. and Mrs. Schade today offered their services to the committee.

They state that a dime will provide food for a poor mother or child for one week in China.

First Band Concert

In addition to this feature entertainment, the Dixon Municipal band will give the first concert of the season this evening beginning at 7:30. The band will alternate on Gaena, Hennepin and Highland avenues between first and second streets, which will be closed during the hours of the party. The Junior Legion drum and bugle corps and drill team and the drum and bugle corps of Boy Scouts troop No. 89 have volunteered their services and will be heard in the three locations during the evening. Later the two junior organizations will execute their drill formations on Highland avenue, after which the pictures will be shown.

Throughout the program this evening, members of the Girl Scout troops of Dixon will sell tags, the proceeds from which will be forwarded to the Chinese relief administration.

"Silly-Minded" Sterling-ites Can Learn Much from Dixon, Gazette e Man Says

Harold Ward Writes Editorial on the "Dixon Way"

(Note—The city of Sterling, ordered by the state to construct a sewage disposal plant, which order resulted in the city council starting a movement to purchase the water system in that city for $750,000, is now involved in a spirited controversy. The council has contended that ownership of the water system will enable the city to construct its sewage plant at no cost to the taxpayers. The opponents of the council's plan contend the proposed price for the water system is $150,000 more than it is worth. In pursuing its investigations the Sterling Gazette, opposed to the council's plan, sent Harold Ward, its editorial writer, to Dixon Wednesday to get full information on Dixon's sewage disposal system. The result of Mr. Ward's visit was given in the following front page editorial in last evening's Gazette.)

DOING IT THE DIXON WAY

Harold Ward
We are loath to admit it, but we can learn a great deal from Dixon. The Sterling theory appears to be that the reason Dixon accomplishes things is because "the politicians stick together." There is considerable truth in the belief. But there is another reason—a reason clearly exemplified in this writer Wednesday: when the people of Dixon have a task to perform, instead of quibbling over details, they take off their coats, do the work, then sit down and call it a day.

Confronted with the problem of building a sewage disposal plant, the Dixonites made an investigation. There, as here, representatives of bonding houses attempted to hook up the purchase of the water company with the building of the plant. The Dixon people decided to do their own financing. They first got a price on the water plant. It was not an inflated value, but a fair, unbiased estimate of between $500,000 and $600,000. The stock of the Dixon Water company is largely owned by Dixon people. They didn't want to cheat their fellow citizens and their fellow citizens didn't want to be cheated. So the price was made in fairness to all—with no cushion for the bonding companies.

The Dixon voters decided, however, that they were satisfied with the water company as it was. They had a right to be. THE MINIMUM CHARGE IN DIXON IS $1.60 AS AGAINST $3.78 IN STERLING. So the voters vetoed the proposition and told the council to go into a huddle and figure out some other way of building a disposal plant.

The council got estimates on a disposal plant. The estimate was $277,000. They then got a PWA grant of 45 percent and put a bond issue up to the voters. It carried. They let the contract and started work. Through the courtesy of Mayor Slothower, Gazette representatives were allowed to go through the books of the city of Dixon Wednesday and make an analysis of the figures therein as they refer to the sewage plant.

They were as follows:
Engineer's estimate of cost of plant $277,000.00
Actual cost of plant 262,297.11
Government grant of 45 percent of cost 118,033.95
City's proportion of cost 144,263.16

The next step was to sell the bonds. The city didn't tie itself up to any one bond house. Instead, it put the issue up for bids. There were seven bidders. The bonds were sold at a premium of $3,000. This cut down the city's proportion to $141,263.16. These bonds run over a period of 20 years and draw four percent interest. That amounts, in bonds and interest, to approximately $10,500 per year for 20 years, spread over the entire city. The tax rate to cover that is, this year, 11 9-10 cents on the $100 as

U. S. Demands That Germany Observe Austrian Debts

Washington, June 17.—(AP)—The United States demanded emphatically today for the second time that Germany assume Austria's debts to this government and American citizens.

Hugh Wilson, the American ambassador in Berlin, delivered a formal note to the German government, on instructions from Secretary Hull.

The United States declared its "dissent from the indicated position of the German government as to its legal responsibilities." (Germany, through Finance Minister Walther Funk, has stated it was not liable for Austria's obligations.)

The United States note also "expressed the hope that Germany may yet undertake the payments incumbent on it both under international law and under equity."

The note declared that under international law, the state taking over another country "assumes the debts and obligation of the absorbed state, and takes the burdens with the benefits."

19 Killed, 56 Injured, 35 Kidnaped in Battle Between Two Cities

Mexico City, June 17.—(AP)—Flare-up of an old feud between citizens of two towns was reported today to have caused a battle at Yodohino in which 19 persons were killed, 56 injured, 35 abducted and the town looted.

Bare dispatches to the war department said the fighting last night in the southeastern mountain village in Oaxaca state was the result of a long feud between some residents of Yodohino and a group from Chiapa.

Women and children were among the victims of the street battle, fought mostly with "machetas," long, broad-bladed knives. It was feared the kidnapped villagers had been killed.

When Yodohino authorities realized they could not quell the fighting they called for troops, who pursued the invaders.

The mayor of Yodohino said the Chiapa townspeople, joined by Indians, burned many homes, pilaged others and carried off food, personal belongings and even livestock. Some stores also were looted.

CASH KIDNAPER LOCKED TODAY IN DEATH ROW

Raiford, Fla., June 17.—(AP)—Franklin Pierce McCall, 21-year-old laborer who confessed he kidnaped Jimmy Cash, Jr., of Princeton, Fla., for $10,000 ransom, was locked in a "death row" cell at the state prison today to await execution in the electric chair.

Dade county deputies brought him here from Miami in an automobile. McCall was sentenced yesterday following a hearing Wednesday.

L. F. Chapman, prison superintendent, said the condemned kidnaper, who insisted he did not kill the five-year-old child intentionally, appeared "stunned" during the 15 minutes required for his booking.

"He was calm," the superintendent said. "Rather, he appeared stunned. I think he hardly realized what had happened to him, that his act had brought him here so quickly."

Governor Fred P. Cone will set the week for McCall's execution. Superintendent Chapman then will fix the day of the week.

ROADHOUSES REGULATION MADE STRICT

License Boosted to $300 Yearly; Hours are Outlined

A resolution providing for the strictest supervision and regulation of road houses in Lee county since the prohibition era, was adopted by the Lee county board of supervisors this morning. In addition to regulation, the board voted to permit the sale of alcoholic liquors and established a license fee of $300 yearly for such licenses.

Five members of the board voted against the adoption of the resolution, namely, Supervisors John Archer, Charles Ramsdell, D. H. Spencer, Leon Garrison and Justin Becker. The roll call vote, which was called for by Supervisor Archer, resulted in the adoption of the measure by a vote of 18 to 5. Supervisor J. W. Cortright moved the adoption of the resolution and said:

"I desire to go on record as being opposed to the road houses in Lee county, believing that these places should be located in corporate limits, but they are here and will remain, therefore, I move the adoption of this resolution."

Jones Drafted Rules.
The resolution, which was drafted by the State's Attorney Edward A. Jones at the request of the judiciary committee, provides stringent regulation and imposes strict restrictions. It also provides that clubs located outside of municipalities shall pay an annual license fee of $50.

The chairman of the board of supervisors is to have charge of the liquor control commission and is empowered to appoint five members of the board to serve on the commission. The liquor commissioners are to receive per diem in the amount of $5 and will be paid five cents per mile travelled in the performance of their duties as such. These amounts are to be paid from the license fees collected, the balance to be turned into the county general fund by the county treasurer twice yearly, on April 30 and October 30.

All applications for licenses are to be referred to the liquor commission which is empowered to grant licenses to expire on April 30 of each year. License fees shall be paid in advance and the licensees are required to furnish bonds of $1,000. Violation of any provisions of the resolution will result in revocation of the license and the amount of the license fee will be forfeited to the county.

Classification.
A class A license permits the sale of alcoholic liquors for consumption upon the premises or in original package at a fee of $300 annually. Class B licenses pertain to clubs located in the county, for the sale of alcoholic liquor, the fee being $50. Class C licenses are for the sale of malt and vinous beverages and remain as in the past, $60 yearly.

The resolution clearly defines the hours during which the road houses may operate. On Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday, road houses will close from 1 A. M. to 6 A. M. The closing hour on Sunday is at 1 A. M. until 6 A. M. on Monday. The sale of liquors to patrons in automobiles or seated at tables outside of the licensed buildings is prohibited. During the closed hours, proprietors are required to store out of view their stocks of liquors, so as not to be visible to customers, patrons and guests. Licenses will be issued only to places of business on a ground or street level.

To Determine Number.
The liquor commission is empowered to determine the number of places to be licensed in any locality or in any part of the county. Liquor consumed is to be obtained from the licensee only, and the taking of liquor upon the premises for personal consumption is prohibited.

Rigid rules of sanitation are also included in the new control measure. The sterilization of glasses or receptacles used in serving patrons after each usage is required. Persons employed are not to be disease carriers or afflicted with venereal or contagious disease. Proper ventilation of the premises and the maintenance of suitable toilet facilities for both sexes are required. The measure also prohibits the presence of criminals or prostitutes, and further prohibits the presence of intoxicated persons upon premises at Dextheimer. He is a member of our South Dakota conference and has been the efficient superintendent of the Colorado Anti-Saloon League for some years. One of the most menacing evils at present, in our land, is the sale of intoxication beverages. Every Christian who has the welfare of the future generation and that of the church at heart, should keep themselves informed on present conditions and every citizen who has the welfare of our country at heart, should do everything possible to curb and finally destroy this curse. Come next Sunday at 10:30 and hear this eloquent speaker. Invite your friends and neighbors to come also.

The morning worship hour from 11 to 12 o'clock will be bright with the singing of some of the loveliest hymns of the church and a solo by Walter Maxey. The sermon of the morning is "Children's Day in Mammoth's World." A second Children's Day sermon which is the other side of the story of Jesus and the children. This is not a world of sweetness and light nor have we made the world safe for children, let alone safe for democracy. But the Christian church is trying to do just these things. "He who is not for us is against us."

BABSON URGES ACCEPTANCE OF F. D. R. PROGRAM

Thinks Business Ought to Cooperate, Make
Best Of It

Beloit, Wis., June 17.—Between now and next November, billions of dollars will come pouring out of Washington. Business fought this new spending program tooth and nail, but Congress is going right ahead with it. It is going to cost a pile of money in taxes and eventually business must foot the bill. But whether business likes it or not the spending cannot now be stopped. So my advice to businessmen is to quit complaining and make the most of the program. Even $5,000,000,000 can do little pump-priming if business refuses to give the pump-handle at least a few pumps!

Businessmen are right in their assertion that before we can have any real prosperity certain changes must take place. Our tax system must be overhauled; the Wagner Labor Act must be amended; and freer markets for goods, for wages, and for brains must be established. Businessmen feel that when we do these things, confidence will be restored and real prosperity will return without pump-priming. Ninety-five per cent of them, therefore, rail and rant at the president. They blame him entirely for our current mess. But does not some of the blame belong to them, too? Have not they helped to destroy free markets just as have labor and the New Deal?

Prices Are Pegged
The producer of commodities demands a high price and a big profit for the goods he makes. He pegs his price and tells potential consumers to take it or leave it. Labor, encouraged by the administration, pegs its hourly wage rate and tells industry to take it or leave it, regardless of whether employers can pay the rate and produce goods at a price that will appeal to customers. Primadonna executives are eager to cut the wages of workers and yet they peg their own salaries at a point far above that warranted by conditions.

The net result is that we have a complete deadlock among consumer, worker, and manufacturer. Selling prices are based on inflated raw material, wage, and brain costs. The man who wants to build a house, to buy new equipment, or to launch a new business reckons he is licked before he starts. So he keeps his money in the bank. There the banker, with a pegged interest rate, lets it lie idle. Everyone to whom I have talked this week makes this comment: "I'm sitting tight until this 'thing' is cleared up." Everybody is riding in the cart. No one is pushing it. That is why we have business stagnation in America today.

Stage Set For Boom
But consider the possibilities. Geographically, we are the fifth largest nation in the world. We have vast land, mineral, and forest wealth. New discoveries have boosted these natural resources to the greatest we have ever known. Our population, the fourth largest in the world, is at a new peak. Our labor supply is the greatest on record. Our potential output of goods is one-fifth larger than it was in the last boom. Our credit reserves are five times the 1929 peak. We have more cash than ever before. Our bank deposits are the largest on record. Our 1938 crops promise to set new all-time highs.

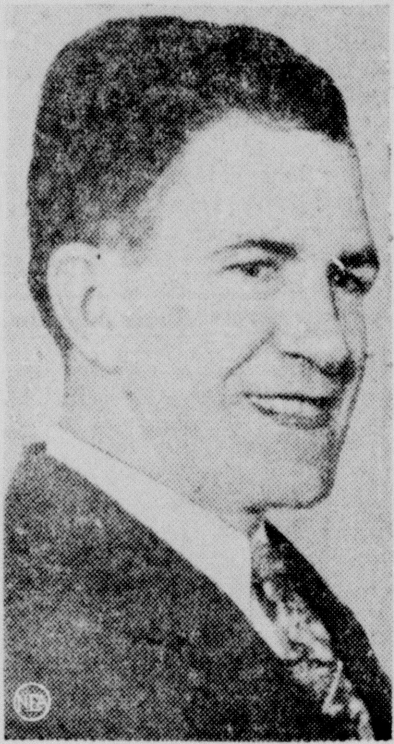

Here are all the necessary ingredients for the greatest boom in history. But instead we are muddling along in the eighth year of depression. America is "all dressed up, but has nowhere to go." My readers are convinced that there must be some basic reason for our troubles. They feel that this cause must go deeper than the Wagner Labor Act, the taxation system, the lack of free markets, the New Deal reforms, and the other more obvious reasons. What is this deeper cause? My answer is: Selfishness. I believe that we have been having a bull market in selfishness in America for the last twenty years. Call it a moral breakdown, spiritual chaos, or whatever name you wish, but we have had it.

Don't Sit Back
Businessmen today reflect this attitude. They say that the president thinks he knows all about

Claims Hague Foe Beaten in Jail

Threatening an appeal to U. S. Attorney General Homer S. Cummings, Mrs. Claire Burkitt, above, charged that her husband, Jeff Burkitt, below, foe of Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, reported being beaten and otherwise cruelly treated in the Hudson County Penitentiary. Burkitt is serving a six months' sentence resulting from his efforts to speak without a permit in Jersey City.

business, so let him run it. They have not shown any interest in the $5,000,000,000 spend-lead program. Yet, this money is going into homes that need just about everything. It will be spent in retail stores almost as soon as it is handed out. Inventories are low. Any substantial increase in orders could produce a stampede for goods. So businessmen, instead of selfishly holding back, should immediately cooperate with this spending program.

I believe that if businessmen, in total, would match this government expenditure—match it in spite of any fears they might have of future legislation and match it in spite of their distrust of the administration—we would quickly be on the way up. How should business spend its share? In advertising, in putting workers back into employment, in purchasing wisely for future needs, in lowering prices enough to appeal to those who already have money to spend.

Let's Push the Cart
I am now in Wisconsin attending a great church convention. There are delegates here from every state in the Union. These delegates represent all political parties. But upon one thing they are agreed—namely, that only righteousness and unselfishness can save this or any other nation. I want to pass along this thought to every employer, wage worker, and consumer among my readers.

The spending program is with us. Therefore, in spite of the obstacles, let us get behind it and push instead of hanging back and dragging. Certainly, a little unselfishness at this time is worth trying. Business and labor are almost certain to get back any money they spend in cooperation with this pump-priming. Maybe they will also get back something truly worth while. I am convinced that if we all forget our little selves, if we stop riding in the cart and lend a hand in pulling it, we can make something out of this $5,000,000,000 program!

Auto-Truck Crash Kills One, Injures Three, Des Plaines

Chicago, June 17.—(AP)—One man was killed and three other persons injured late yesterday in an automobile-truck collision at a highway intersection three miles east of suburban Des Plaines.

R. E. Marsh, 45, Chicago building contractor and driver of the truck was the man killed.

The injured, all taken to Northwestern hospital in Des Plaines, were:

William Gehrke, Chicago, skull fracture.

Hazel O'Flaherty, 710 McBride Ave., Elgin, Ill., cuts and bruises.

Paul Rittis, 405 Center street, Elgin, skull fracture.

Marsh and Gehrke were riding in the truck.

Chinese historical records state that silkworms were reared as long ago as 2650 B. C., and the production of silk was a jealously guarded secret for nearly 3,000 years until—according to legend—a Chinese princess who married in Khotan succeeded, at the risk of her life, in carrying with her eggs of the silkworm and seeds of the mulberry tree on which it feeds.

Brain Twizzlers By PROF. J. D. FLINT

ANOTHER BONER LIKE THIS AN' I'LL TIE A CAN ONTO YOU

A good laugh was on a certain police department when a red-hot, or what they thought was red-hot, lead was discovered on a kidnapping case which hadn't happened but was threatened. A tin can was found by a tombstone in a more or less abandoned graveyard and the can contained a note which was written in an almost illegible scrawl and which demanded a sum of money in fifty pieces. The rest of the note trailed off in meaningless words and left the police baffled but interested. Great was their chagrin when they pounced upon a dark figure shortly after dark one evening and found a boy who was playing a game with a friend whereby he must pay a ransom of one dollar in fifty pieces of money, one of which had to be a quarter. It was kind of a problem at that; what would the fifty pieces be?

News Award Given Woman

Mrs. Edna Eaton Wilson of Ripley, Okla., was designated this week by the Country Home magazine as winner of the title of best country newspaper correspondent for 1938.

Mrs. Wilson will come to New York, June 22. On the trip, which is one of her major rewards for the excellence of her column of community comment in the weekly Gazette of Stillwater, Okla., she will also visit Washington and be a guest of the National Editorial Association at its convention in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Wheeler McMillen, editorial director of the magazine which sponsors the annual award, quoted her editor, Otis Wile, in describing Mrs. Wilson as the pride of the Stillwater Gazette staff—"whose copy doesn't have to be penciled and who always finds something of human interest in the farm community." She is the wife of a farmer, mother of four sons and a former school teacher.

A check for $500 will be handed to Mrs. Wilson as the first choice of the judges, who included Miss Gertrude B. Lane, editor of the Woman's Home Companion; William L. Cheney, editor of Collier's, and Sumner Blossom, editor of the American Magazine.

Mrs. Blanche Pease of the Atkinson (Neb.) Graphic, who placed second, will receive $200. Other cash prizes went to Clara Mack, the Wayland (N. Y.) Register; Anthony Grebenc, the Cook (Minn.) Herald News; Mrs. E. W. Colgrove, the Mott (N. D.) Pioneer Press, and Mrs. Ferris Braucht, the Osceola (Iowa) Tribune.

Mrs. Wilson is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Eugene H. Eaton, who joined the rush to Oklahoma in 1889. She was born on Oct. 23, 1901, in what used to be the old Creek Indian nation. After two years at the Oklahoma A. and M. College in Stillwater she taught school in the Lone Jack district of Pawnee county, prior to her marriage. Since 1925 she has been a correspondent for the Gazette. In addition to helping her husband operate their 270-acre farm.

Typical items submitted from

Mrs. Wilson's contributions included these:

"G. E. Shaw is the first one we knew to be happy about the April snow, the first grown-up, anyhow." "Gib had a sick cow and called Dr. Frank Knotts from Stillwater. Doc got stuck in a snowdrift and couldn't make the trip. The cow got well."

"Leonard Linsenmayer was brave enough to plant oats before the February blizzard and now has a perfect stand of young oat plants."

Relief Client Who Had $2,178 Removed From Gov't Rolls

Chicago, June 17.—(AP)—Relief officials said today that Morris Lenneg, 85, who suffered a paralytic stroke and was taken to the county hospital Tuesday, was removed from government rolls after it was found he possessed $2,178.

They said efforts would be made to recover $300 Lenneg received during January when he signed his relief application. Lenneg's bank-book was found when hospital attaches checked his effects.

John Keats, famous English poet, was the son of a livery-stable keeper.

A HALF-BILLION DOLLAR LESSON IN RAT-HOLES

Proposals to settle and finally "pay off" the British World War debt to America are gaining ground in London. They are getting an increasingly attentive ear in the United States.

The Baldwin settlement of 1923 called for payment of $13,520,000,000 in 62 years, but the British war debt has been in default, both as to principal and interest, since 1931. At that time the British attitude was: "We can't pay. Let them whistle for their money. We fought their fight for three years, and spent the money in the States anyway. Uncle Sam is just Uncle Shylock to us." And the American attitude was expressed by the laconic Coolidge crack, "They hired the money, didn't they."

But today there is a movement in Britain to pay something, to settle the matter for good and all. Why this sudden change of front, all of a sudden?

It is all very clear. In 1931, Britain was not much worried about another war, or the financing of it. Today she is. And American law now forbids any loans to countries which have defaulted. Looking toward an uncertain future, it would be well to have that American matter cleared up so the way would be open to further loans, rather than closed by default on the last ones.

Mexico's derisive jibe, that there were bigger and more powerful countries than she who had defaulted their external loans bit the British in a tender spot. There wasn't any answer, and that is the kind of a jibe that hurts.

So now it is proposed that a single lump sum be paid, say a half-billion dollars, and by mutual consent wash up the whole matter.

There is certainly no longer any reason in the diaphanous attitude that demands payment down to the last cent. It can't be done, and there is some doubt that it would be a good thing if it were done. But that does not mean that just any kind of a cash settlement is advantageous, either.

What is it worth to the United States to have this continual reminder around her neck that the financing of wars means default and ruin? It might be worth more than a half-billion dollars when the next war comes along.

And this is no discredit to the British, who probably would have paid the debt if anybody would. The point is that par debts of this kind are uncollectible from any nation and under any circumstances. It might be worth a half-billion dollars if we could be made to remember that; if we could learn that what is tossed down the rat-hole of war is gone forever.

VIENNESE EXPERIMENT

Maybe the intentions of Der Fuehrer have been something nobody suspected, all along.

Maybe those champions of personal liberty who have pictured him as the arch-enemy of democracy and individual freedom have been doing the man a grave injustice. Maybe the point of the annexation of Austria was to acquire a laboratory in which the best methods of easing the new Germany into the privileges of adulthood were to be worked out.

The latest news from Vienna is scarcely credible in any other light.

After 24 years of the strictest regulation, the dogs of Vienna have just had their muzzles removed. The law requiring that every Jack dog among them be muzzled in public at all times has been stricken off the books completely.

Friends of freedom, it looks like the first timorous step toward the Germanic millennium, when the muzzles will be off the entire population.

It also, however, looks like the last. Many of the dogs, according to the word from Vienna, immediately celebrated their unaccustomed freedom by taking large bites out of everything in sight, including their masters.

ELECTRICAL BRAINSTORMS

The age being fairly cluttered with extraordinary disclosures in the field of science, the mind of man has accustomed itself to taking even the most awesome of them in its stride. Except for the discoveries that concern the mind of man.

An encounter with a mirror continues to be a fascinating experience.

That the brain throws off electrical impulses probably is not news to you. But consider this: A "super wave" of electricity which the brain produces has been discovered. It has been determined that it changes its poles from time to time, like a self-reversing direct current generator. It has been found also that the pattern of the wave can be changed at will by injections of glucose. And abnormal patterns found in the brains of persons with mental disorders can be produced artificially in normal persons.

In short, science is getting so chummy with a man's mentality, and can fool around with it on a physical plane so successfully, that—well—gosh!

The vision of a citizen of the future equipped with switches and dials, and dependent on operators and repair men, arises.

Let's keep on for a while picturing the mental and physical as having nothing much to do with each other. Just now, it all being so sudden, the old-fashioned notion is much, much more pleasant.

Washington—A very significant conference took place at the White House before Admiral Yarnell, Commander of the Asiatic Fleet, issued his advice to the Japanese that American warships would go where they pleased on the Yangtze River, not painted per Japanese instructions.

The conference was held almost a week before Admiral Yarnell issued his blunt note to the Japanese. At that time, the Navy had received advance, confidential information regarding Japanese plans, so high naval officials went to ask Roosevelt what they should do about it.

"The Japanese are going to raise hell again," one of the admirals told Roosevelt, and proceeded to unfold Japanese plans for closing the Yangtze river and raining more bombs on Canton.

Upshot of this conversation was to the effect that if American warships were kept on the Yangtze there might be another Panay incident, but on the other hand, hundreds of Americans demand protection along the Yangtze, and if Japan wants to hand the United States another Panay incident, it can take the consequences.

So instructions were sent to Admiral Yarnell to use his judgment, but protect American lives if possible.

Admiral Yarnell is a man whose judgment is always against any move favoring of retreat—which his colleagues in Washington knew. Hence the wording of the message.

Note—Opinion in the State Department, Navy, and White House is unanimous that if Japan's present wanton destruction leads to the conquest of China, she will move shortly into the Dutch East Indies, thence into other East and South Pacific areas.

Judicial Chairman

Chairman Hutton Summers of the House Judiciary Committee has a reputation among his colleagues for ducking controversial issues. Every time a troublesome measure comes up the chary Texas stalls as long as possible before taking a positive position.

One of his favorite devices is to be absent from committee meetings. This is most annoying to the other members; so when the resolution for a monopoly investigation came before them and Summers failed to show up, they adopted this motion:

"That inasmuch as several controversial issues still remain unsettled before the committee, the Chairman should be advised not to return yet."

No Refugees

Berny Baruch, millionaire broker, has given his private advice to Roosevelt that it is a mistake to bother with the Jewish refugees problem, and that Roosevelt should devote his time to troubles at home.

Baruch was originally picked as a member of the American delegation to the International Refugee Conference meeting in Switzerland next month, but at the last minute, just as his name was about to be announced, it had to be stricken off.

One private reason for Baruch's opposition to Roosevelt's move on behalf of refugees, is that the entry of more Jews in the United States is likely to arouse anti-Jewish prejudice.

No Foolin'

Found: One hot Democratic primary in which Administration chiefs really are keeping hands off.

It is in Minnesota where six optimistic aspirants are lustily lambasting one another for the nomination for Governor to be decided next Monday. All are more or less claiming Washington's blessings, but that is just campaign talk. The Administration is taking absolutely no part in the fracas—chiefly because privately it doesn't believe a Democrat can possibly win there in November.

Insiders believe Tom Gallagher, the only Democrat who refused to get out of the field in 1936 when the New Deal and Farmer-Laborites made a deal, is the most likely victor.

Note—Farmer-Laborite Governor Benson is encountering stiff opposition from Hjalmar Peterson, Lieutenant Governor under the late Floyd Olson. In the Republican camp three hopefuls are battling it out.

Merry-Go-Round

Several extra Pullman and compartment cars have been ordered for the President's special train in which he will cross the country next month. This is to take care of the numerous local officials and politicians expected to visit Roosevelt during his run through their districts.

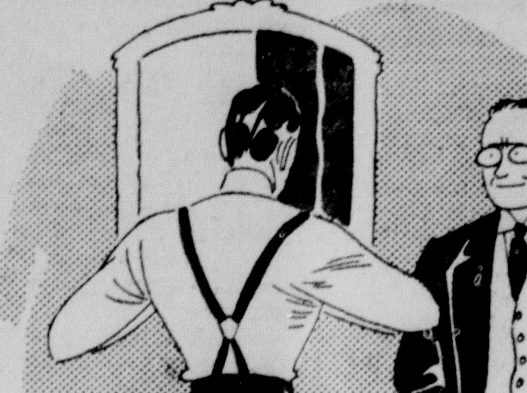

Newspapermen call them "visiting firemen." . . . Although father of the TVA, Senator George Norris has not sought or obtained a single job for anyone in the organization . . . Next to the congressional press galleries, the spa-

THE STORY OF HEREDITY... THE SMITHS

"DAD, MY CLASSMATES, DAVID AND PAULA, BROTHER AND SISTER, HAVE SUCH VIOLENT TEMPER, BUT THEIR BROTHER AND SISTER, JOE AND GRACE ARE—SWEET TEMPERED. IS HIGH TEMPER INHERITED?"

"I THINK DAVID AND PAULA JUST DON'T CONTROL THEMSELVES, DICK, WHILE JOE AND GRACE DO."

"The keenest anguish known to human nature is the pain of a new idea," (Bagehot). We hope this column brings you pain.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Dad is right, but why are the children so different in self-control, reared in the same environment? Dr. Charles B. Davenport, of the Carnegie Institution, studied the family trees of 165 wayward girls in state institutions. He found that where one parent had high temper tantrums, about half the children had it whereas the other half were more self-controlled. If both parents had high tempers all the children had them. While it is hard to believe that the trait is inherited in simple fashion like blue or brown eyes, the study leaves a strong impression that some persons and families are by heredity "feebly inhibited," as Davenport expresses it, and easily fly off the handle. This means that such persons should have more training in self-control and learn also to watch themselves.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Yes, if a real change has come. As related by the Personnel Journal, a certain boy left college with high ideals and got a job with an oil company where he found the chief pride of the employees was in short changing customers and filling their machines with old oil. He quit in disgust and went with a Wall Street firm which employed low ethical practices. He is now a Communist—and will likely always be one. His attitude toward all industry is changed and now he wants to change all industry because every new experience bolsters up his changed attitude.

"I KNEW IT WOULDN'T LAST!"

"IF YOU CHANGE A PERSON'S ATTITUDES IS THE CHANGE LIKELY TO PERSIST?"

YES OR NO — 2

WILL OUR CITIES OF THE FUTURE BE OCCUPIED BY DESCENDANTS OF CITY PEOPLE OR FARMERS? YOUR OPINION — 3

Answer to Question No. 3

3. By the farmers unquestionably. As Fritts and Gwin show in their most significant book, "Fifth Ave. to Farm," the cities of the United States would be dying out at the rate of one-fifth of their population every generation if they did not constantly bring in boys and girls from the country to make up the deficit. Farm people have 50 per cent more children than necessary to replace their numbers, and this surplus replaces the dying population of the cities. These authors believe a reverse trend must soon be set up—a great Back-to-the-Farm movement. Their book presents a very hopeful picture of farm life with its modern education, transportation and mechanical equipment.

Octagon House

BY PHOEBE ATWOOD TAYLOR

The Story So Far:

Asey Mayo, Cape Cod detective, is investigating the murder of Marina Lorne, whose husband's post office mural has enraged Quano-met. She was killed by a left handed blow from the knife of her sister, Pam Frye, who lives in Octagon House. Interested parties are: Tim Carr, once married to Marina; Jack Lorne, the artist; Roddy Strutt, whose plane crashed the night of the murder; Peggy Boone, another artist; Jennings, an irate plumber; and persons unknown who smoke Turkish tobacco, burned down the barn, biffed Asey, Tim and Pam's father, and destroyed Jack's mural sketches. Missing is a $50,000 lump of ambergris belonging to Pam. Interviewing Roddy's injured pilot, Asey learns the crash was deliberate, and that Marina and a lot of others had probably seen the ambergris from the plane before Pam found it on the beach. Unable to get it away from Pam, Marina was going to use Roddy in a hijacking scheme.

Chapter 37

Problems of a Congressman
As Asey left the hospital, a large black sedan drew up. Elliott, the Congressman from the district, hurried up to him.

"You're one of the hardest men to find, Asey," he said, "that I ever knew. I've been on your trail since yesterday afternoon."

Asey grinned. "How's things," he inquired, "from the rockbound coasts of Maine to the sunny shores of California?"

"It's fate, I suppose," Elliott said, "that the only time in my life I used that sentence was also the only time you ever heard me speak. Listen, this Quano-met business is getting me hot under the collar. The citizenry is aroused. I'm pretty aroused myself. This post office and this damn mural—do you know how they happened?"

Asey waved toward the coupe. "Come sit down," he said, "and tell me, I been wonderin' just what part you played in that. An' I don't mind sayin' I think you'd ought to be ashamed of yourself."

"I am. Look, you know me, and you know I've done as much for this neck of the woods as anyone could do for a solid Republican cious press establishment of the Supreme Court is the best run agency of its kind in the Capital. It is under the direction of Nelson Potter, former clerk in the office of the Marshal of the Court . . . At each end of the Speaker's Lobby in the House stands a huge (5 ft. 8 in.) vase, presented by the Government of France. The pair cost $10,000 and are almost filled with cigarette and cigar butts. . . . When the conferees on the wage-hour bill finally reached an agreement, President Roosevelt telephoned Senator Elbert Thomas of Utah, chairman of the committee, and personally thanked him for "doing a grand job."

A Good Defacing

"Meantime—" Asey said, "you might find that the paints ain't proper paints. Non-union. Or that the dampness is eatin' into Myles Standish's hair. Get the D.A.R. to pass a resolution—"

"Oh, they have. They have!" "Well, fix things so that the mural has to have a cloth hung over it."

"I wish," Elliott said, "that I dared to subsidize a couple of good bums, and have them take the chance of getting caught, just to cover that mural with tar for me. A good defacing would solve everything. Oh—there is one thing more. Carveth Strutt has been after me, yelping about Roddy. Says he's being menaced—"

"Somehow," Asey said, "Roddy is mixed up in this Marina business. He's been menaced because it's such a nice alibi, like. If you're being menaced, then no one'll believe for an instant that you had anything to do with the murder."

Elliott whistled. "Does Roddy—oh, I don't like this! His other uncle in Washington—oh, Asey, I don't like this! I'm having enough trouble as it is, with the hot-headed citizens of Quano-met. I definitely don't want the Struts to ride into battle. I know they're bums, but their money's handy. Not just for politics, either. I expect to work a park out of Carveth, and I'm banking on Dighton to get the Milk Fund out of the red. Is Roddy really involved?"

"I think so."

"There is no justice," Elliott said. "None at all. If Roddy's involved, can't you wait till I get the park and the fund money?"

Asey grinned at Elliott's anguished tones. "I've already waited too long on Roddy," he said. (Copyright, 1938, Phoebe Atwood Taylor)

Asey visits the post office, tomorrow.

The association's purchases on the spot market consisted of 310 tubs of extras at 25½ cents per pound, 50 tubs of 90-score at 24½ cents, and 525 tubs of 89-score at 24 cents, or ¼ cent higher to ¼ cent lower than yesterday's prices.

GUNS FOR U. S. NAVY

MADE IN WASHINGTON

Washington (AP)—The national capital makes not only the laws for the nation but all of its big naval guns.

The Navy Yard here is the sole source of manufacture of the 14- and 16-inch guns for the Navy. It takes three years to make the guns for a battleship.

Unusual quantities of ammunition have been washed up on the Prussian coast by the Baltic Sea. One beach yielded 700 pounds of the "German gold."

During 1937 approximately 20 billion gallons of gasoline were used by motorists.

The South Dixon Community club and guests, Mrs. Bertha Hensen of Chicago, cousin of Mrs. Belle Mumford, Mrs. Cook, Misses Arlene and Vivian Wolfram, Grace Levan, Edna Patterson and Mrs. William King, met at the home of Mrs. Laurent Henry Tuesday afternoon and spent a most enjoyable time. The meeting was called to order by the president and the minutes read and approved. After the usual routine of business, Mrs. Amy Wolfram had charge of the entertainment, in which she read a number of poems and conducted an interesting contest. Mrs. David Moore was the winner.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in playing Crazy Eight. Mrs. William Remmers and Mrs. Robert Levan won first and low prizes respectively. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Jesse Lautzenheiser. Mrs. Amy Wolfram will entertain the ladies at the next meeting to be held Wednesday, June 29. The trip which the ladies had planned to take has been postponed until a later date.

This being the last meeting of the fiscal year, Mrs. Sheffield termed her program "A Journey Backwards," in which a resume of the accomplishments of the society for the past year were reviewed. Silly-Minded—

A sessed valuation figured on a basis of a $2,000 home, assessed valuation, there are comparatively few homes in either Sterling or Dixon with that large an assessed valuation) means that it costs each property owner in Dixon $2.38 cents per year or 24 cents a month to build the disposal plant. It will cost that amount for 20 years. At the end of that time the plant will be paid for and the taxes will be case.

In an effort to set up a bugaboo, we simple-minded Sterlings have been told that the building of a disposal plant without tying in the water works would cost us at least 50 per cent of the cost of our water bills. The smallest figure given any of us was that published in The Gazette recently of around $4.40 per year. The figures of the Dixon plant prove this statement entirely erroneous. Nor is the operating cost, excessive. It cost Dixon during the last fiscal year— for water, labor, chemicals and everything else connected with the operation of the plant—just $2,858.98.

The estimated cost of a disposal plant in Sterling is $275,000, or $2,000 less than the estimated cost of the Dixon plant. The PWA grant asked for is the same. Labor and materials are cheaper today than when the Dixon plant was built. There is every reason to believe that Sterling could let the contract at a figure similar to that secured by Dixon. THE BONDS COULD BE PUT UP FOR BIDS and, in all probability, a similar premium could be gotten.

In plain words, there is so little difference in the two towns that there is every reason for the belief that the cost to the taxpayer would be the same—$2.38 per year for each piece of property for a period of 20 years.

Handbook Employees Freed Of Gambling Charges By Court

Chicago, June 17.—(AP)—Seventeen employees of a loop handbook, charged with operating a gambling establishment, were acquitted yesterday by a municipal court jury after a half hour's deliberation.

It marked the third and last round of the city's "bookie battle." Nineteen were seized last September in a raid on an elaborate North Wabash avenue handbook.

Two of them, including the owner, were found innocent in separate trials.

The case was designed to determine the power of the police to enforce a 50-year-old anti-gambling statute and thereby stop horse-race betting away from the tracks.

Captain Daniel Gilbert, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office, estimated 500 handbook employees.

INDIANAPOLIS INCREASES ITS BASEBALL LEAD

Milwaukee, Wis., June 17.—(AP)—The Indianapolis Indians, making a serious bid for a strangle hold on the American Association leadership, turned their guns on the Milwaukee Brewers today.

Indianapolis last night increased its circuit lead to three and one-half games by defeating Kansas City again. This time the score was 8 to 2, with the Tribe collecting four runs in the third and a cluster of three in the seventh.

As Indianapolis was lacing out 15 hits the Blues were able to garner only four safeties off Jack Tising.

Milwaukee, tuning up for the Indian invasion, shut out Louisville's cellar-dwelling Colonels 6 to 0 as Joe Heving pitched three-hit ball. The Colonels, however, took the series two games to one.

Homers by Tommy Irwin and Roy Johnson accounted for all the rewer runs.

Columbus was able to do no better than Kansas City on offense, getting only four hits as Minneapolis downed the Red Birds 2 to 0.

St. Paul tightened its grip on second place with a 4 to 3 win over Toledo's Mud Hens, the Saints getting the winning run in the final inning.

Three-Eye League Fans Kept On Edge By Thrilling Race

Chicago, June 17.—(AP)—Three-eye league baseball fans are getting a real run for their money this season.

Clinton, far down in the circuit cellar, walloped the pennant-seeking Springfield club, 8 to 2, last night, the game adding to the ever-growing list of upset results that have added interest to the season's play.

Waterloo defeated Decatur, 8 to 3.

Evansville and Cedar Rapids and Moline and Bloomington engaged in extra-inning battles. Evansville gained a 3 to 2 verdict over Cedar Rapids in a 12-inning tussle while Bloomington came through with a 9 to 8 victory in 10 innings.

There were hits aplenty in the Evansville-Cedar Rapids tilt but most of them were wasted. Giebel, the winning pitcher, went the route but allowed 15 hits, five more than his teammates got off Roshach of Cedar Rapids who also pitched the entire 12 innings.

Forty-Four Failed To Get Nomination

Washington, June 17.—(AP)—Of the several thousand nominations sent to the Senate by President Roosevelt this session, 44 failed to receive consideration.

Forty-two were postmasters. The other nominations that died in committee were those of Philip Flanner to be Wisconsin WPA administrator, and William M. McDonnell to be federal marshal for the northern district of Illinois.

Legalized Wire-Tapping Bill Is Shelved In Jam

Washington, June 17.—(AP)—The last-minute jam in the Senate shelved a bill which would have legalized wire-tapping by federal law enforcement officers.

The measure would have made it a crime for any person to use the radio, telephone or telegraph in attempting a felony.

Both houses passed the bill, but the Senate failed to act on a minor change made by the House.

Rep. O'Connor (D-NY) asserted that President Roosevelt would have vetoed the legislation had it reached the White House. It resulted from a Supreme Court ruling that wire-tapping to obtain criminal evidence was banned by the communications act.

With Japanese forced by the flood to abandon apparently for several months their attack on Chengchow, the gateway to Hankow by way of the Peiping-Hankow railway, they pushed the campaign in two sectors farther south.

Goldwyn Wants Picture Purge

Returning from a survey of motion pictures abroad, Samuel Goldwyn, ace producer, shocked ship news reporters by denouncing the poor quality of American movies, their excessive cost and calling for a purge of the "too many inferior people" in the business lest it lose out to low-cost, high-quality European films. He and Mrs. Goldwyn are pictured above as they arrived in New York.

relatively light, since the Chinese expected the flood, but famine and threatened epidemics presented difficulties seemingly unsurmountable.

With Japanese forced by the flood to abandon apparently for several months their attack on Chengchow, the gateway to Hankow by way of the Peiping-Hankow railway, they pushed the campaign in two sectors farther south.

Traveling Around America

KING OF THE WOOL-BEARERS

THIS stately, high-stepping and very snobbish creature is the vicuña, most aristocratic member of the guanaco-lama-alpaca-vicuña family—a family which has been thriving and multiplying in the highlands of Peru, Bolivia and Ecuador since many centuries before the white man arrived in the New World.

The vicuña of this family has the finest wool—on especially fine specimens the fiber is fine as silk, being only a two-thousandths of an inch in diameter and generally six or eight inches long. Both the vicuña and alpaca grow best at an altitude of from twelve thousand to sixteen thousand feet. Many live at an altitude of 17,000 feet—far too high for the average human being—and although they seem to thrive on practically nothing in their own habitat, when transplanted to the mountain districts of other countries such as Scotland, Europe and Australia, no amount of coddling has been able to keep them alive. The wool was first used for clothing by the pre-Inca peoples; and beautiful textiles estimated to be two or three thousand years old, vying in beauty and excellence of workmanship with the textiles found in the sarcophagi of Egypt, have been unearthed in the tombs of Peru and Bolivia and are on view in the museums of Lima which are included in the sightseeing tours offered in connection with the weekly cruises to Peru.

Peru alone has about a million and a half alpacas, and in a recent year the harvest netted $2,800,000. Bolivia in an average year markets two hundred tons. Most of the flocks still are tended by the Indians. They clip the animals about once in two years—obtaining about ten pounds of wool from each—many of them still using broken glass or knives for the shearing just as did their forefathers countless centuries ago.

Pershing and Bride at Waikiki

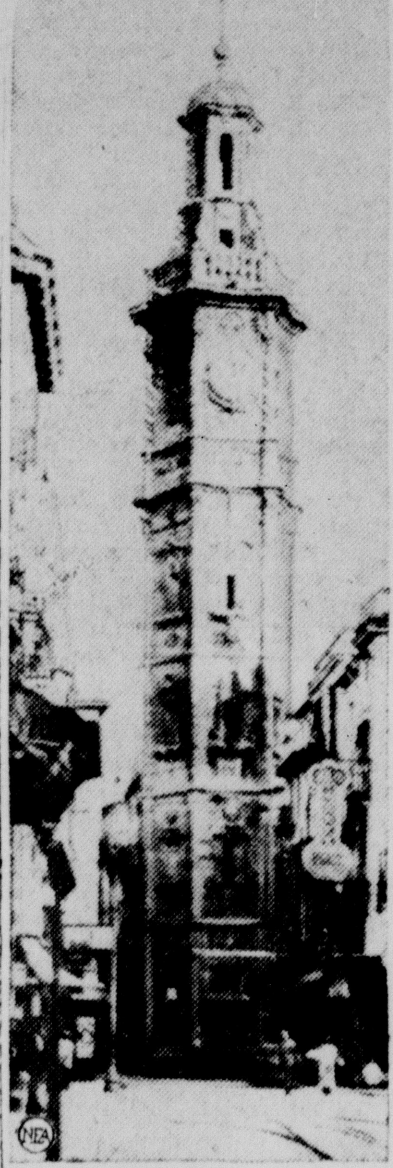

Obviously as happy as all honeymooners should be, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Warren Pershing smile for the cameraman at Waikiki as dusky Sam Colgate, a beach boy, provides the proper Hawaiian atmosphere. Pershing is the son of Gen. John J. Pershing, who crossed the United States to attend the wedding in New York City, after a miraculous recovery from a serious heart ailment. Mrs. Pershing is the former Muriel Bache Richards.

Stegosaurus With Sex Appeal

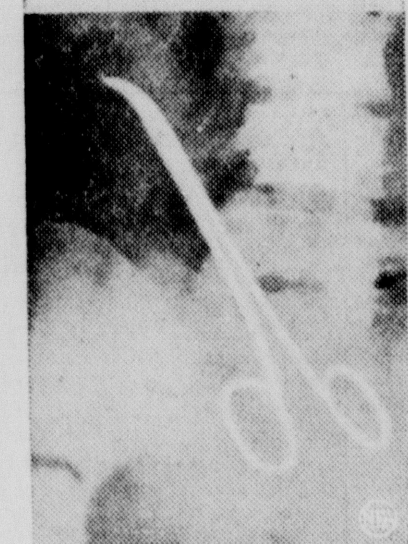

It's a safe wager that the ancient stegosaurus after which the above steel and concrete copy was modeled never had such a lovely load to tote around. This lucky prehistoric reptile comes right up to date with a cargo of modern bathing queens. Seven feet high, 11 feet long, he's one of five recently erected in Dinosaur Park at Rapid City, S. D., at a cost of $18,000, partly financed by WPA.

Valencia---Next Target of Rebels

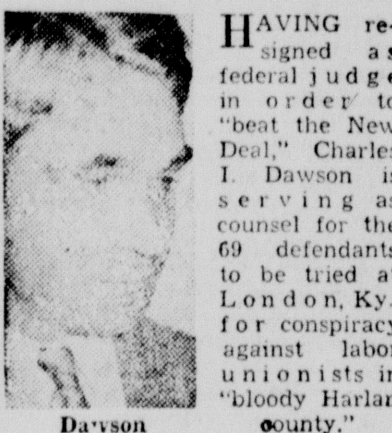

While insurgent planes rain bombs on Spanish seacoast cities, the Nationalist army is pushing past Castellon toward its next great objective—Valencia, refugee-crowded and center of supplies for the Loyalist defenders of Madrid. Shown at left is the Santa Catalina tower, historic landmark in Valencia endangered by recent bombing. The map above shows territory now held by the opposing forces. The arrow on the seacoast shows the direction of the insurgent drive on Valencia. The arrow at top indicates the spot where another Franco force is fighting the remains of a Loyalist "lost battalion" in an effort to close one of two remaining avenues of escape into France.

So That's Where the Forceps Went

Survives Bullet Meant for FDR

Five years after she was shot in the head by a bullet intended for President Roosevelt, Miss Margaret Kruis, pictured above with her pet dog, Fluffy, still suffers headaches but holds a position with the Bituminous Coal Commission in Washington, D. C. The shot which struck Miss Kruis was fired by Joseph Zangara at Miami on Feb. 15, 1933. Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago, who was with the President at the time, was killed.

Hypnotic Relief for Childbirth Pain

In preparation for the arrival of her baby, Mrs. Ethel Pardie Gaynor, 45-year-old expectant Los Angeles mother, is shown above in a trance as R. A. Gilbert, hypnotist, gives her a "treatment." Painless childbirth through "hypnotic suggestion" is Gilbert's aim and the treatments are necessary to prepare Mrs. Gaynor for a deeper trance at the crisis. In addition to the obstetrician, three hypnotists, including her husband, will attend the mother during delivery.

Appeals for Chinese

In an appeal to Americans to support the national Bowl of Rice party to be held in more than 1,500 cities and towns throughout the United States, June 17th, for benefit of Chinese civilian refugees, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., national chairman of the United Council for Civilian Relief in China, declared that more than 60,000 Chinese victims of Japan's undeclared war are in acute need. "Bombings of Canton have intensified the already appalling situation of the Chinese civilian population," Colonel Roosevelt said, "and conditions of famine, destitution and disease are unparalleled in modern history."

Plenty of Brawn

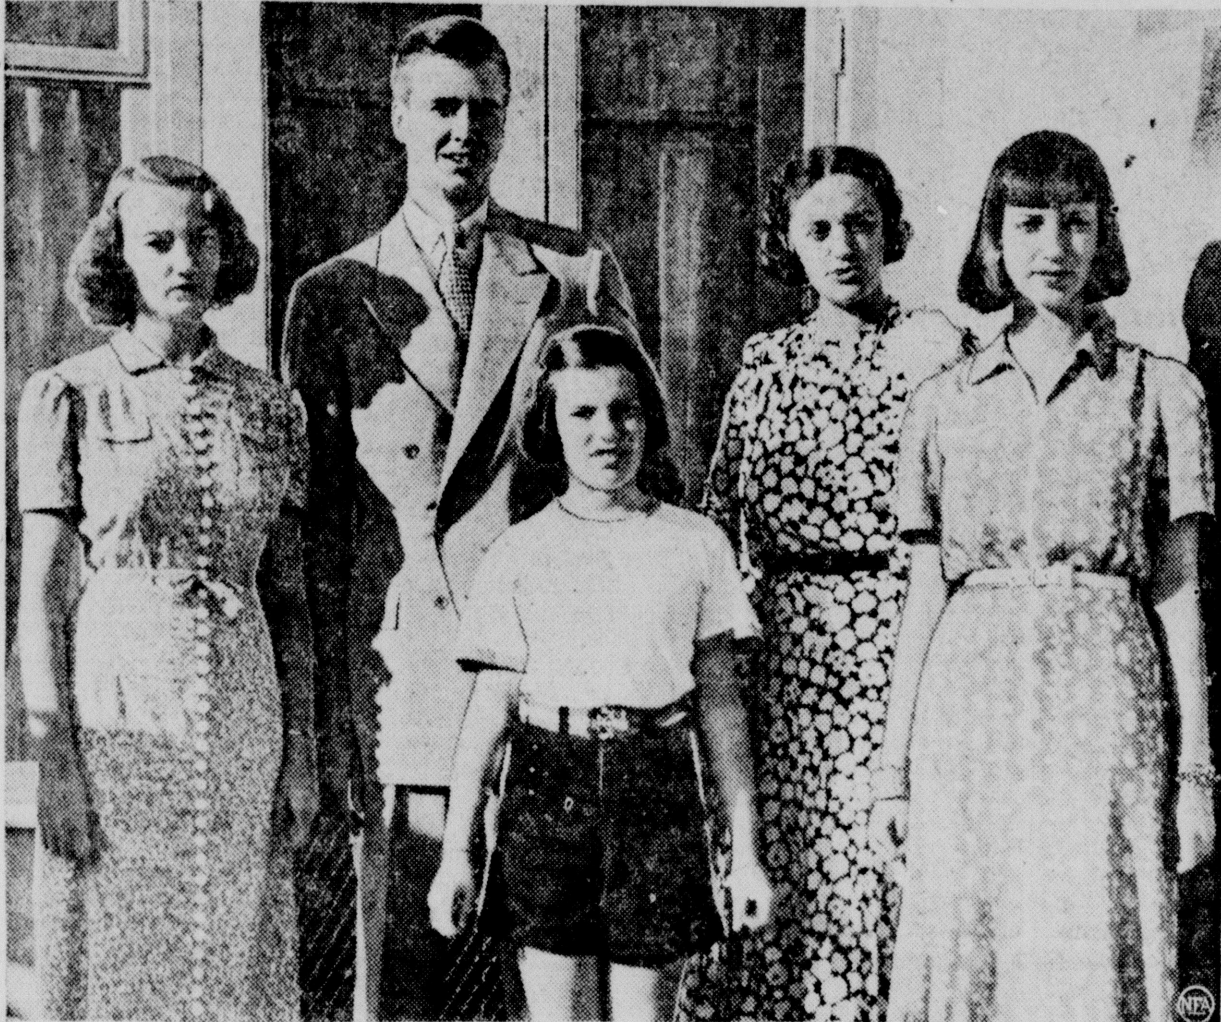

Making his first bid for an honor which few Americans have won, powerfully built Joe Burke of Bridgeboro, N. J., is shown the day he completed his training for the Diamond Sculls at the British Royal Henley Regatta on the Thames. Burke, as the nation's No. 1 sculler, demonstrates his championship grip before setting off on the Normandy.

HAGUE! HAGUE! THE GANG'S ALL HERE!

Tumultuous cheers and a few boos greeted Jersey City's Mayor Frank Hague as he led between 30,000 and 40,000 paraders in what its organizers described as a "spontaneous" outpouring of citizens in support of his fight against "un-American activities". Pictured above is a contingent of flag-carrying women, scarcely visible, so densely packed was the crowd of 40,000 that jammed into Journal Square. Here Mayor Hague mounted the reviewing stand and warned that "Communists and radicals better get a ship immediately back to Russia!"

Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt (to be) and In-laws (to be)

John Roosevelt, son of the President, and his fiancée, Anne Lindsay Clark (extreme left), are pictured above as they posed with the family of the bride-to-be at her Nahant, Mass., home. In center foreground is Miss Clark's 10-year-old sister Joan, who will be flower girl. Behind her is Mrs. F. Haven Clark, John's future mother-in-law, and at right is his fiancée's sister Sally, 18, who will act as maid of honor.

Hidden By G-Men As Spy Witness

Federal agents investigating foreign spy activities in this country considered information obtained from tall, dark-haired Senta De Wagner, above, of such vital importance that she was held in secret "protective custody" in New York. She is proprietor of a liquor shop at Hempstead, L. I., near Mitchell Field, army air defense center.

Joe Can't Be Bothered

Curled up in the sun with his fishing pole dangling over the boat's edge, Joe Louis doesn't seem to worry about whether or not he'll get a bite at his Pompton Lakes training camp. Nor does he seem to be greatly worried over his impending battle with Max Schmeling, June 22, for that matter.

A Supreme Court Justice Hob-Nobs With the Legislators

Could that be a Supreme Court justice smiling in the center of the above picture with his arms encompassing former congressional colleagues in a good fellow gesture? Yes, it is Justice Hugo Black, a precedent breaker, who did it again by going over to Capitol Hill to renew old memories. The former senator is pictured with two other Alabamians: Speaker William Bankhead of the House of Representatives, left, and another Bankhead, Senator John. "I'm just another of the many visitors," said the jurist, not a whit perturbed by the fact that Supreme Court justices rarely visit the halls of Congress.

GUERRIERI IS AGAIN WINNER ON RING CARD

Outpoints Elgin Boxer; Martinitis is Victor

Another large crowd attended the Dixon Athletic Association third fortnightly boxing program at Assembly park auditorium, on which program Linto Guerrieri, world's amateur light-heavyweight champion, was featured in a bout with Freddie Alton of Elgin.

Guerrieri was originally scheduled to meet Jeff Hampton, Chicago amateur champion, but Hampton failed to appear. Alton was obviously no match for Guerrieri. Linto poked a few short jabs into Alton's face, and the Elgin youth backed away apparently somewhat timid. In the second round Alton was jolted with several uppercuts and the two boxers went into frequent clinches. Linto punished his opponent with body blows in the third round, and as the bell ended the fight Alton was in distress. Guerrieri easily won the decision.

The semi-windup bout in the 160 lb. division between Tommy Morris of East Moline and Ed Martinitis of Rockford was a contest between two very good boxers who didn't uncover themselves for any punishment.

The pair shadowboxed through the first round scarcely tapping each other while the crowd growled more and more impatiently, booed and howled for action. Martinitis opened the second round by lifting Morris completely off the floor with a solid right hook that floored him for the seven count. Morris got back on his feet, however, and jabbed a hard left into Martinitis' middle. After this brief exchange of blows, both fighters kept themselves well protected.

The pair feinted and sparred through the third round showing superior footwork but little action above the hips. Morris landed one hard left haymaker to Martinitis' jaw and unleashed a series of these, some of which connected, but the bout was awarded to Martinitis.

The first battle of the evening in the 128 lb. class between Carl Bay of Dixon and Harold Kroft of Buda was little more than a slaughter. Bay floored Kroft almost before the bout got underway and neither boy showed much science or boxing skill. In the slugfest which developed in the second and third round Bay was decidedly superior, being awarded the decision.

Forder Outpoints Hess.
Jimmy Forder of Sterling met Jack Hess of Dixon in the 147-lb. division and won a decision. Hess kept Forder tied up, the latter missing several uppercuts in the first round but he landed a few haymakers and Hess slipped a right past Forder's guard occasionally to keep the Sterling boy worried. In the second round Hess poked Forder with left jabs to the jaw and the Sterling boy retaliated with a swift left hook that made Hess groggy as the round ended. Hess waded into Forder as the third round got underway and Forder straightened him up with a right. Hess swung a left uppercut then a right to Forder's jaw that snapped his foe's head back.

Russell Arneson of Rockford won a decision over George Carlson when Carlson made the mistake of leaving himself wide open. In the first round Arneson belted Carlson with a left hook that dazed the Dixon boy and in the second he used a right hook for the same purpose. Carlson slipped over a couple of one-two hooks and then left himself open for a stiff left jab that almost floored him. Arneson carried the fight further to Carlson in the third round, socking him time and again with right and left hooks. Meanwhile George was swinging uppercuts up from the basement with little effect.

Most Vicious Bout.
At 147 lbs. Harry Kobbeman of Tampico and Chris Virgis of East Moline staged the most vicious bout of the evening. A slugfest developed in the first round after a short period of sparring. Kobbeman was more aggressive but Virgis' footwork was better. He swung a low blow into Kobbeman's stomach as the round ended and was warned by Referee Louis Viscioni.

The second round began with Kobbeman tearing Virgis apart with right and left hooks to the jaw and chest. Virgis telegraphed nearly all his blows and was noticeably tired. In the third both fighters punched each other's bodies and Virgis, extremely tired, fell to the floor for the nine count and a rest. Arising he swung a wide haymaker that missed and the bout ended, Kobbeman being declared the victor.

Clyde Harvey of Rockford at 147 lbs. met C. J. Smith of Dixon. Smith was more aggressive and used lefts and rights to good advantage in wearing down his opponent. Harvey tried a couple of left hooks that missed and Smith worked on Harvey's body, crowding him to the ropes. In the second round Smith found Harvey's jaw with a shower of lefts and rights and in the third Smith tied Harvey up but lost his footing several times. Harvey tried body punching with Smith but was tied up in the clinches. Smith won the decision.

Judges for the fights last night were: Ernest Maurer, Rock Falls; John Woods, Tampico; Jim Palmer, Dixon. Announcing was Merv Blum of Sterling and Louis Viscioni of East Moline refereed. Tim Sullivan was timekeeper.

Plum Hollow Engages Walnut Sunday; Local Golfers Turning Out

Return Match Later In Summer Booked By Talty

Plum Hollow golfers will engage in their first tournament of the summer Sunday afternoon when they entertain Walnut golf club linksters here. The match will commence about 1:30 p. m. Caretaker Ted Talty said today.

The Plum Hollow course is in perhaps the best condition it has ever been, new equipment has been purchased to keep the fairways and green in tip-top shape and in spite of a rainy spring the course has been patronized better than in previous years. Last Sunday over three hundred persons including many transient golfers were reported on the course taking advantage of the perfect June weather and the sporty lay-out to test their golfing abilities.

Walnut is expecting to bring up about sixteen or twenty of their best golfers so all members of Plum Hollow are urged to turn out en masse and meet their challenge. A complete entry list of about forty golfers is expected. The locals will play a return match with their Bureau county opponents later in the summer.

Hazards Sporty

Natural hazards on the Plum Hollow links are greater obstacles than ever to overcome. The heavy rains have developed a rank growth of weeds and clover in the roughs which it has been hard to mow or thin out adequately. The craters on fairways No. 3 and No. 7 are more dangerous than ever to trifle with, while the brook which bisects fairways No. 4 and No. 7 is filled with water. This same brook presents a hazard on No. 8 and No. 9 more difficult than ever to overcome.

The steep hills and deep valleys of the course will thoroughly test the physical condition of the Walnut invaders, as well as none too few of the locals who haven't been playing regularly enough of late to stand the gaff. The fairways and greens are in superb condition, closely mowed and soft as an Oriental Persian carpet.

An added feature for transient golfers and tourists at Plum Hollow is the tourist home now open for overnight business. The clubhouse has been renovated and rooms prepared for overnight tourist trade. While here many tourists have taken advantage of the proximity to the links to play golf.

Bits of Gossip of Sports Picked Up By AP Writer

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
New York, June 17.—(AP)—Mike Jacobs doesn't have to sell another ticket to be in the clear on Schmeling and Louis. That doesn't mean he has a sell-out yet, but the fight isn't going to lay an egg. . . . Out-of-town customers had better make sure of that hotel reservations. . . . You'd be surprised at the lack of Schmeling money with so many of the top-flight experts on the limb for the German. . . . Odds are seven, eight and nine to five depending on where you bet. . . . That 11 to 5 flurry of Wednesday didn't last. . . . One Yorkville German who won $1,400 on Schmeling in 1936 is betting on Louis this time.

How about Mr. Scotty Reston, who handles sports in London for the American Walker Cup players on the same day? He took Johnny Fisher by one hole, drank a beer and polished off Marvin Ward, 3 and 2. . . . That cove is a bit of an old right, aren't he? . . . Frank F. sports editor of the Fargo (N. D.) Forum, blew in for the fight today and leaped aboard the Schmeling bandwagon before he checked into a hotel.

At Speculator the other night Max Schmeling sat down after dinner and autographed 165 photos which will be included in a souvenir book Moe Annenberger, publisher of the Philadelphia Inquirer, will give away at a party after the fight. . . . Reliable reports from up that way say a sizable percentage of the citizens in Yorkville (New York's German section) are pulling for Louis. . . . They are piqued with Schmeling.

Covert Decides To Defend Singles Net Championship

George Covert, 1937 city singles tennis champion, has decided to defend his title and laid down the gauntlet today by challenging Fred Bueck, ranked No. 12, on the Telegraph's tennis ladder.

Covert is not yet ranked on the ladder, having failed to signify his intention of defending his title when the first organization meeting was called in May. However, he is eligible for competition and is favored heavily to dispose of Bueck easily, gain a ranking and push himself in short order into the top flight.

As the ladder now stands Covert, in order to regain his position as No. 1 man of Dixon, must first defeat Bueck No. 12, to get his ranking on the ladder, then subdue R. A. Joslyn ranked No. 7, William Rusk, No. 6, and Cliff Flanagan, new No. 1 spot possessor. Covert's greatest test is expected when he faces Joslyn, a new dark horse threat to Covert's championship.

Dixon's Version

Manager Bert Cummings of the Knacks baseball team, in reply to the box score published by Manager Don Welty of Walton on last Sunday's Dixon-Walton baseball game, made the following statement this morning:

"Manager Don Welty of the Walton team sent in his official box score of the game played at Walton last Sunday as he was dissatisfied with the box score that appeared in Monday's edition of the Telegraph. After reading his version and being telephoned by half the Dixon crowd that went to Walton, I wish to say that it seems Walton's players are hard losers and they still are making excuses because they didn't win. In fairness to Dixon's team I would like to call Manager Welty's attention to the fact that his scorekeeper doesn't know what a sacrifice hit is.

"In the fifth inning, with Leonard on second and Carlson on first, Roy Kuhn laid down a perfect sacrifice hit, moving Leonard to third and Carlson to second. Also, Kuhn singled in the seventh.

Prestegard Not Hit
"I would like to call his attention to the fact that H. Prestegard wasn't hit by the pitcher and that Hoffman didn't hit a man in the entire game. If he had, why was he charged with a time at bat? Again, in the last half of the tenth inning when the Knacks scored three runs without the help of the umpire, Walton's official scorekeeper has Mulcahy at bat once, scoring a run, giving him a hit. Mulcahy wasn't at bat the whole game as he only caught the last half of the tenth inning when Windmiller was removed after Windmiller had doubled. Windmiller's double was credited to H. Prestegard by the Walton scorekeeper.

"Following is the first half of the tenth inning for Manager Welty's information, during which the official scorekeeper must have gone to sleep: Martin flied out to Lynch, Ole Prestegard singled to right, Miller singled to left, Ole staying on second, McDonald flied to C. Welty making two out. Windmiller then doubled to right scoring Ole. Miller stopped at third, H. Prestegard singled to left, scoring Miller and Windmiller, and went to second on the throw to the plate trying to get Windmiller who had scored. Lenard struck out.

"If we have to have official scorekeepers in this league like that when a man of Windmiller's class is not credited with a hit or run I would say we had better get a scorekeeper that knows the game!"

GIANTS, CUBS SLIPPING IN LEAGUE RACE

Reds, Pirates May Forge To Front Before Long

(By SID FEDER)

The way Bill Terry's Giants and Cholly Grimm's Cubs have been showing signs of hitting the skids, off and on, for no reason at all, things may yet start to pop in that two-hoss National League race.

The rude Reds from Cincinnati and the Pie Traynor's rejuvenated Pittsburgh Pirates virtually were tied for third place today, just three games back of the Cubs, and only 4 1-2 out of the top. The Giants have won only seven of their last 17 games, and the Cubs have captured two out of seven.

Take the Pirates. They've won 11 out of their last 16, the latest a 10-2 beating they pinned on the Giants yesterday.

Then, there are the Reds. Johnny Vander Meer is pitching no-hitters all over the place, Paul Derringer is coming back, and Buck McCormick and Schnozzola Lombardi are finding a "cousin" in just about every pitcher in the league.

The classy pitching by the Pirates' rookie Bob Klinger, sophomore Jim Tobin and veteran Mace Brown is the only way you can figure the Bucs' come-back.

Handcuffed Giants

Klinger skyrocketed into the league pitching lead by handcuffing the Giants with five hits yesterday for his third victory in a row, and his fifth against one setback for the year. It was the second straight loss for King Carl Hubbell, who's having a terrible time trying to land the 200th win of his big league career.

While that defeat shaved the Giants' National League lead to a game and a half, the American League race remained a neck-and-neck struggle between the Yankees and Cleveland Indians. The Tribe continued half-a-game in front by whipping Washington, 4-1, on Bobby Feller's eight-hit elbowing Monte Pearson and Bump Hadley combined in a one-hit performance as the Yanks trampled the Chicago White Sox, 5-1, to stretch their winning streak to six straight.

Tommy Bridges pitched a six-hitter and fanned eight to pace the Detroit Tigers to a 12-3 edge. The Red Sox finished strong and walloped the St. Louis Browns, 12-8.

Claude Passeau's six-hit pitching gave the Phillies a 3-2 margin over the St. Louis Cardinals. The rest of the National League was not scheduled.

Junior Legion Cubs And Pirates Compete Tonight

Through a mistake on the part of the committee, the Junior Legion baseball schedule for Friday evening, June 17, was published as the Cubs vs. the Indians. The Cubs will play the Pirates at 5:15 p. m. today at Reynolds field.

The schedule for the ensuing week is: Monday, June 20, Cubs vs. Indians; Wednesday, June 22, Pirates vs. Cardinals; Friday, June 24, White Sox vs. Tigers.

All players are urged to be present on nights their teams are slated to play. The management will pick an all-star outfit to play out of town teams and will want the best talent Dixon has to offer on the field.

In the little town of Bunde, Germany, is a "cigar museum" which contains the world's largest cigar; nearly six feet in length and over two feet in circumference.

Webber Amused At Cummings' Worries Over Coming Game

George Webber, manager of West Brooklyn's league-leading Illinois State league ball team expressed amusement today over Dixon Pilot Cummings' worries that the villagers intend to import players to keep first place intact for West Brooklyn Sunday afternoon. He says:

"It was with considerable surprise and amusement that I read your assertion in Thursday's issue of the Telegraph regarding my importation of a minor league pitcher for our game with you Sunday. Knauer, the backbone of my pitching staff and Walter, behind the bat will compose the usual competent battery with the rest of the infield the same as have played thus far this season ready to play ball in their customary effectiveness.

"So take it from me, Mr. Cummings—in the words of a senior manager to a freshman manager of our league—you have been erroneously informed and there is perfect harmony between my boys and me. We do not require imported players—my boys are capable and willing at all times—they give the fans their very best performance in each attempt. A good percentage of the boys are farmers or otherwise employed and do not have the time for the necessary practice that is essential in our baseball world. However, our attendance at ball games has proved that our loyal fans are proud of our baseball results—so we'll see you Sunday—Manager Cummings—we're ready to make this game one of the most interesting as well as one of the squarest and most sporting contests of our league."

GOOD THOUGHTS

Every evil to which we do not succumb is a benefactor; we gain the strength of the temptation we resist.

—Emerson.

Satan overcomes none but by willingness.

—Herrick

The beginning of all evil temptations is inconsistency of mind, and small confidence in God.

—Thomas a Kempis

The person who faces temptation with strength and endurance will get the crown of life promised by God when he is approved. The way out of temptation is the way of love. The man who loves God and his neighbor has in that love the secret of effective resistance to temptation.

—Dr. Jason Noble Pierce.

When tempted to sin, we should know that evil proceedeth not from God, good but is a false belief of the personal senses, and if we deny the claims of these senses and recognize man as governed by God, Spirit, not by material laws, the temptation will disappear.

—Mary Baker Eddy.

Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God, for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man.

—James 1:

CONGRESS QUILTS AFTER SPENDING RECORD AMOUNTS

1938 Session Most Costly One in Peace-Time History

Washington, June 17—(AP)—Five hundred-odd members of the 75th Congress, who had begged for weeks to quit work, finally went home today to ask the voters to return them next January.

Until the gavel whacked out adjournment last night, they wrangled over Roosevelt proposals just as they had done ever since the court reorganization bill was submitted 16 months ago.

The Senate and House in their last meeting approved the President's $3,753,000,000 relief and public works program, but enacted over his veto a bill continuing low interest rates on government loans to farmers.

Then, in a final show of independence, filibustering Senators shelved a proposal to furnish $12,500 to the Senate lobby committee. Senator Burke (D-Neb.) contended the money would be used to abridge freedom of the press, a statement which Chairman Minton (D-Ind.) of the committee hotly denied.

Rules Violated

The lobby argument kept the Senate in session until 7:22 P. M. C. S. T., while members grew noisier and noisier. Occasionally applause rang out in the crowded galleries in violation of the rules.

The House, always hilarious just before adjournment, listened to round-robins of praise for majority and minority members alike. It was 8:08 P. M. before Speaker Bankhead could stop the oratory.

Toward the end, both chambers paused to hear weary clerks read some kind words from Roosevelt. On green notepaper, the chief executive wrote Vice President Garner and Speaker Bankhead that the session had brought "much constructive legislation for the benefit of the people."

"Definitely, we are making progress in meeting the many new problems which confront us," the President added.

Although he didn't get all the ber is requested to be present and bring a friend. Special musical numbers will be rendered in honor of Father's Day. A most cordial welcome is extended to the fathers and mothers.

Morning worship 11:00 A. M. The pastor will speak to the text "But as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." Vocal solo "Hold to God's Unchanging Hand" by Miss Peters.

Children's Day program will be presented at 7:45 P. M. The public is invited to attend. A very special invitation is given to the parents of the children.

legislation he wanted. Roosevelt had reason to send his letter of appreciation to the first Congress of his second term.

Only this week he won one of his key requests—establishment of wage-hour standards. Earlier, Congress approved his recommendations for housing, farm and naval legislation, and an anti-trust inquiry.

President Rebuffed

He had dealt him rebuffs, however, in killing the court bill, shelving the government reorganization program, and writing a tax law of its own.

Waiting for adjournment, the President had held up his special train to Nahant, Mass., where his youngest son John will be married Saturday. Two minutes after the session ended he was on his way.

The Senate scrap over the lobby committee funds began when Burke announced frankly that he and other Senators would hold out against the proposal as long as they were physically able. He denounced activities of the lobby group, which recently quizzed officers of organizations fighting the government reorganization bill.

Likened to Germany

Discussing Minton's recent statement that the lobby group might make an "objective study" of newspapers, Senator Clark (D-Mo.) asserted:

"It's just what they are doing in Germany."

Minton rose frequently to reply to his critics, asserting that any newspaper study would include publications both favoring and opposing the administration.

When it became apparent that the filibuster might run on into the night, Democratic Leader Barkley conferred with Minton and the request for additional funds was abandoned.

Minton told the Senate, however, the committee would continue operating on a restricted basis during the recess, that it would renew a request for more money next session and that the newspaper investigation might yet be made.

Norris' Tree Bill Dies

In the final drive which pushed the deficiency appropriations bill to enactment, a hastily-summoned joint committee threw out an amendment by the veteran Senator Norris (Ind.-Neb.) to provide $1,300,000 for planting "shelter-belts" of trees.

The House recessed late in the afternoon to let the Senate catch up. At the close, members clustered together on the floor, their arms thrown about each other in friendly good-byes.

A cheer went up for Speaker Bankhead when he wished the members a "safe adventure at the polls" in November.

Rebel yells rang out when Democratic Leader Rayburn of Texas took the floor and shouted, "I love you all."

Representative Snell of New York, leader of the smallest Republican membership in history, expressed "our continued confidence in the great Speaker of the House."

In the Senate, members rushed up to shake hands with Senator Barkley after he made a speech praising his colleagues for "industrious and earnest performance of duty." Senator McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader, was among the first to greet Barkley. Commenting on the session's accomplishments, McNary later told reporters:

No Fundamental Laws

"In my judgment, the session was void of any fundamental legislation calculated to cure the economic and social problems of the country."

In its final days the 1938 session became known on Capitol Hill as the $12,000,000,000 Congress because it appropriated that amount—a peace-time record.

The session was noteworthy in another respect. The court fight and other issues split the largest Democratic majority in history—a division that will extend not only into the November elections but also into the 1939 session.

Controversy Unended

Leaders already have served notice that the close of this five-and-a-half months' session did not end the controversy over key White House proposals. Next winter they expect to offer a new reorganization bill and a new tax measure. What will happen to these depends largely on the results from the presidential lot boxes this fall. Even so, some anti-administration Democrats in the Senate do not face reelection this year and hence will form the nucleus of the opposition.

One major topic which will come before the new Congress will be the report of the anti-trust investigating committee approved this week at Roosevelt's request. Three Senators, three Representatives and officials from five government agencies will compose the group.

Senator King (D-Utah) contended "the paramount task" of the committee was first to determine whether monopolies exist.

Senator Borah (R-Idaho), the Senate's No. 1 anti-monopoly crusader, declared on the other hand that he did not care to "go into a long exploration of the existence of monopoly and what it is doing."

"The one thing I am interested in is finding the remedy," he said.

LINCOLN SCHOOL PACK OFFICIALLY INSTALLED FRIDAY

Eighty Cubs, parents, leaders and friends attended the Cub Pack installation and family picnic at Lowell Park last evening when the Lincoln School Pack was officially installed. The four Den groups held a baseball tournament during the afternoon under the leadership of the Den Chiefs and Den Dads. The picnic supper which was planned by the Den Mothers was followed by a ball game between the Dads and Harold Salzman's Den. The results of the game were a good time by all, both those who played and those who watched.

Enos Keithley installed the Cubs in an elaborate Indian ceremony after which Russell Byers, assistant Cubmaster presented the registration certificates. The following boys were awarded their Wolf pins which were pinned on by Miss Esther Barton, principal of the
